GERGACS REALTY · RELOCATION

Welcome to Savannah — even before you get here

Hi {{first_name}},

Thank you for reaching out about relocating from {{origin_city}} to Savannah. I'm Nikki Gergacs — born and raised here, now in my 21st year as a Certified Residential Appraiser, and an active Realtor across Chatham, Bryan, and Effingham counties.

Here's what I tell every relocator from {{origin_region}} in our first conversation:

- Light changes everything. Visit a neighborhood on Saturday morning, Tuesday afternoon, and Sunday evening before you commit.
- Insurance isn't optional. Hurricane, flood, wind — the math is real and worth budgeting for from day one.

- The marsh has seasons. The same dock looks different in February than in June.
- School zoning matters more than the listing pages suggest. Even if kids are out of the house, this affects future resale.

The first 30 minutes I spend with relocators is asking about your Tuesday afternoons — what kind of life you're hoping to live, not just what kind of home you're hoping to find. The rest follows from there.

Or reply to this email with two things: when you're hoping to be settled, and which neighborhoods you've looked at so far. I'll come back with what I think might fit and what I'd want you to verify before our second conversation.

Warmly,
Nikki
